FOUNDATION

COLORS

Color Usage

Each theme is based on a set of individual base reference values. These are:

- Primary (main user interface colors)
- Semantic (value state colors)
- Neutral
- Grayscale (text colors)

COLORS

Primary Colors

The reference colors listed give a helpful indication as to where they are used in the UI controls and layouts.

By default Paas UI uses info blue as primary color, this primary color may be changed by a specific brand color.

COLORS

Semantic Colors

Semantic colors can be used to represent a negative, critical, positive, neutral, or information status.

COLORS

Neutral Colors

Neutral colors are used for secondary actions. When the user needs to focus on another primary action the secondary action can be represented by the neutral colors.

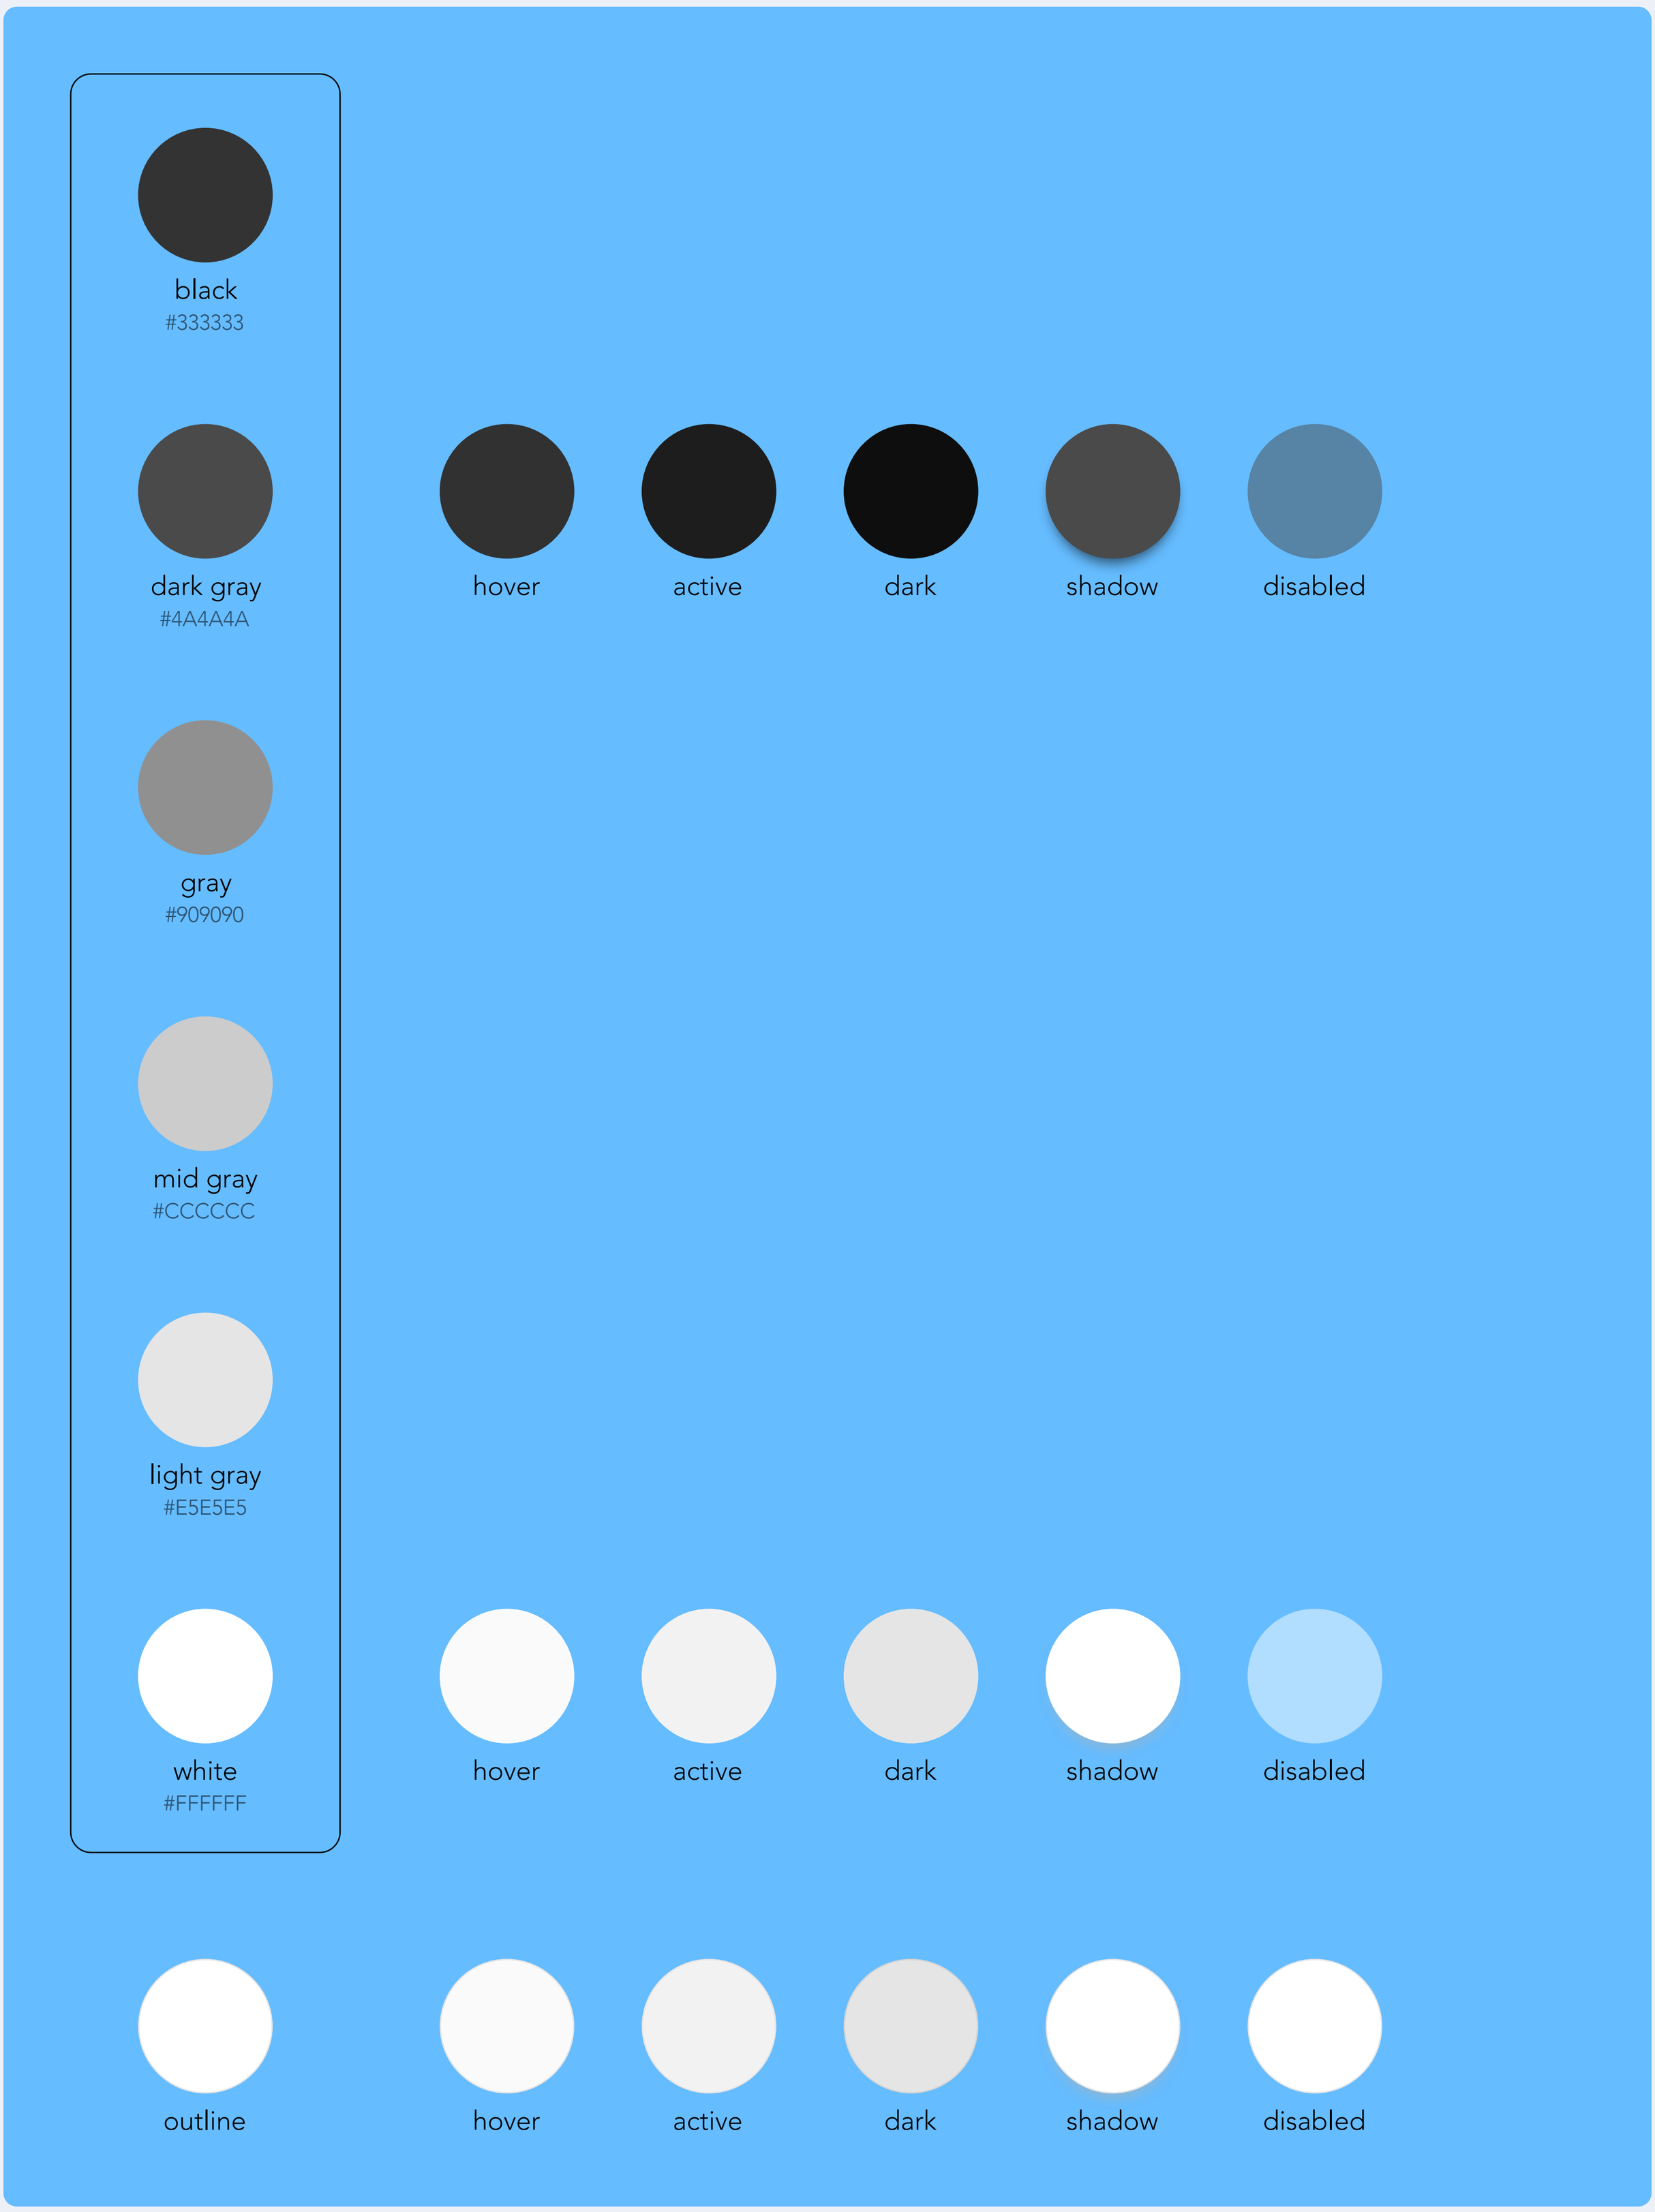
COLORS

Grayscale Colors

Grayscale areas play an important role in any PAAS user interface. They minimize the risk of over-stimulation and foster simplicity. White and the light grays are mainly used for areas in the background or for borders. Darker gray shades are primarily used for texts.



FOUNDATION

TYPOGRAPHY

PAAS uses free typeface Nunito which is a Google Font, with a fallback to a sans-serif system font if Nunito can't be loaded.

Nunito is a well balanced sans serif typeface superfamily, with 2 versions: The project began with Nunito, created by Vernon Adams as a rounded terminal sans serif for display typography. Jacques Le Bailly extended it to a full set of weights, and an accompanying regular non-rounded terminal version, Nunito Sans.

Headlines 1 to 6: Titles are defined in several sizes and styles that help to visually identify the context of application pages or grouped content within the user interface. Example of headlines include the page title, object header title, list, form, table, chart, timeline, and feed titles.

Small text: Used for controls such as time stamps, unit of measurement, buttons, labels and small bylines (for example, a feed).

Medium text: Default text size used in inputs, tables, or a tree.

Large text: Stand-out text controls, such as the author name in a feed, or the file name for a collection of uploaded files.

Appfaces

Size Variations

Appfaces have 3 size variations: 1x1, 1x2, 2x2. These tiles are stacked in a 4 unit grid to form the users launchpad.

Regular appfaces have 4 sections: the icon area, the title, the subtitle and the infographic area.

Tile components

Appfaces

This area displays the app icon. The icon is masked with the standard radius. Icon shape is standard.

The title

The title can be 2 rows.

The subtitle

The subtitle can be 2 rows. Title and subtitle pair is centered vertically with the icon. (even the centering process requires the pair to overflow its upper padding of 10 px, the pair will prioritize the padding as in the first 1x1 tile example)

The infographic area

PAAS tiles have different types of infographics for different needs. Number of infographics will increase.

Action States

Default

Default state is when a tile is stationary.

Actions active

A small actions bar appear above the tile when editing is activated from the bottom right corner.

Dragging

Shadow increases while the tile is dragged.

Hover

Size of the tile increases by 2% without disturbing the grid.

Clicked

Size of the tile goes back to initial state.

The profile picture displays the notification badge. The user can access the notifications/widgets bar from this badge.

The name and the default role is displayed. The user can logout and access settings from the dropdown next to his/her name.

The"menu" title is a button and gives access to the hierarchical menu bar when clicked.

The user can choose the tenant from the tenants section if he/she has multiple tenants.

Launchpad Cascaded Actions

Desktop Tabs

User can assign and create 6 desktops for each tenant. The desktop currently in action is selected from this tab. when a desktop is clicked the desktop appears by sliding from the corresponding side.

Search Bar

User can search PAAS from this bar. A full screen search results page appears immediately. Search results page is explained in detail in the search section.

Appface area

The appface area is customizable and can be filled with appfaces of the user's apps. The appfaces display different charts and infographics of the apps. They also serve as a shortcut and opens the app when clicked. Appfaces with an arrow below are appfaces with children, they will open a section and display their children without opening an app.

Action buttons

"edit and arrange appfaces" this button displays a pop up where the user can configure the infographic type that he/she wants to use on a particular appface.

"create shortcut or add a new app" this button opens available apps list and the user can drag and drop a new app to his/her desktop.

GENERAL CONCEPTS

Application Page

Header

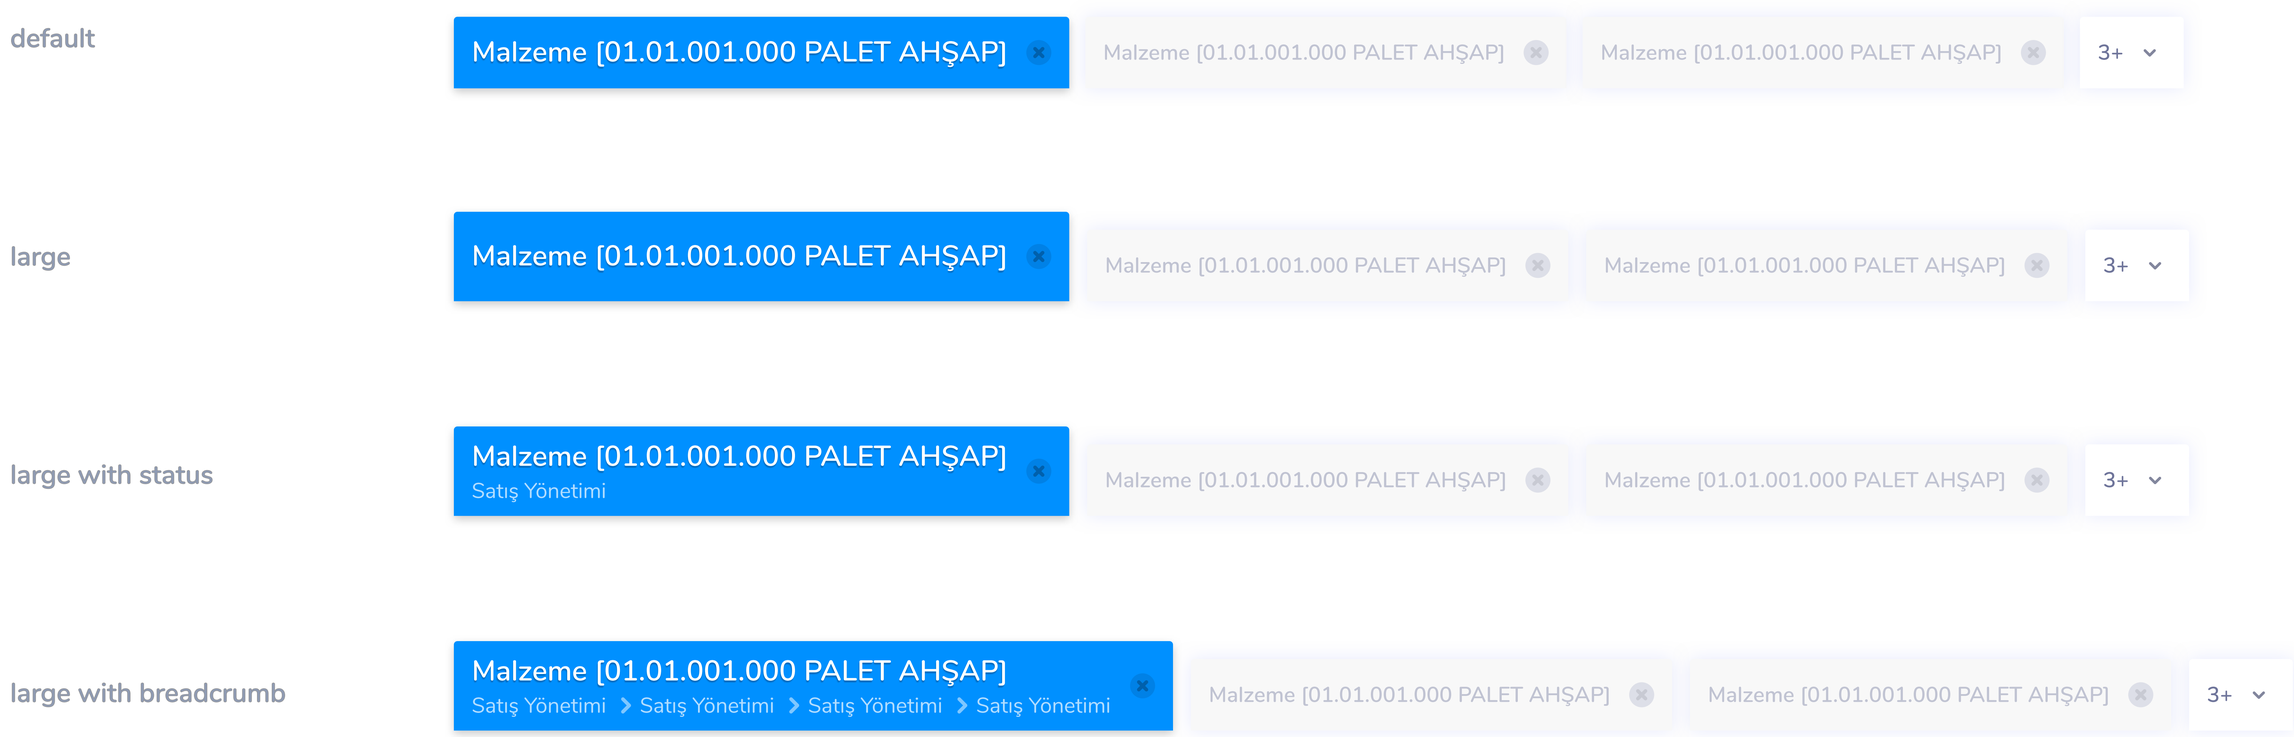
Header displays the title of the page and it prevents the user from losing his/her place on the platform. The header can be configured to include a breadcrumb. A breadcrumb increases the user's awareness on his/her location on the platform and helps him/her navigate few steps backwards.

The header also includes a back button automatically.

Simple header

Simple header is used for single page applications where the user is always focused on one task.

Multi page header



Multi page header can be used to give the user the option switch back and forth between two or more tasks which are handled in different pages.

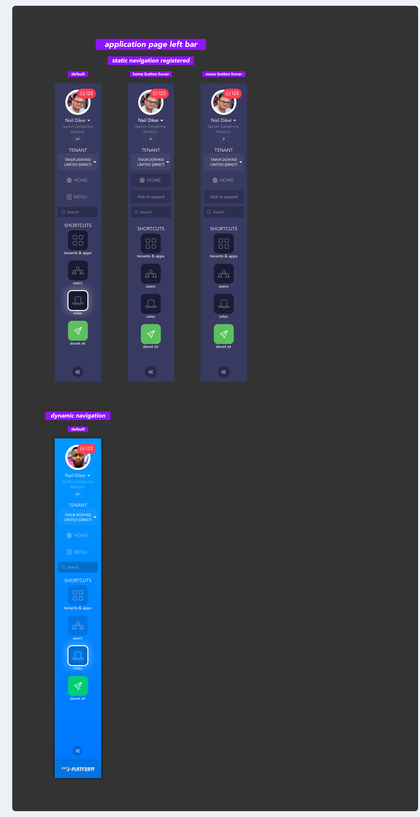
Application Left Bar

The left bar serves as a connection to PAAS when he3ide is using an application.
On top part the user can see his/her profile picture, the badge on top of the profile picture displays the notifications. right below that the name and role of the user is displayed.
PAAS icon is used to navigate back to PAAS menu page.
The search bar opens the search page.
The title indicating "menu" is a button which opens the hierarchical menu.
The icons below are launch buttons for different pages.



Types

The application left bar has 2 types: Static navigation and dynamic navigation.

Static navigation

Static navigation is used when an application on PAAS wants to create a single page application experience. To do this, the application registers its navigation tree and icons to PAAS and configures its navigation as static(icons are obligatory in this type of navigation) PAAS automatically prints these app icons on the application left bar. This bar stays the same wherever the user goes in this same application. A small circle indicates which page the user is on.

Dynamic Navigation

Dynamic navigation app buttons are populated dynamically by PAAS.

Action Bar

Action bar is at the bottom and its purpose is to gather all actions specific to the page in one place. The user learns to search for a function or an action here. It is configurable and customizable.

Action bars may prompt or represent data to help the user complete a task. But the action bar is not a form, 1-2 inputs must not be exceeded when used in the action bar.

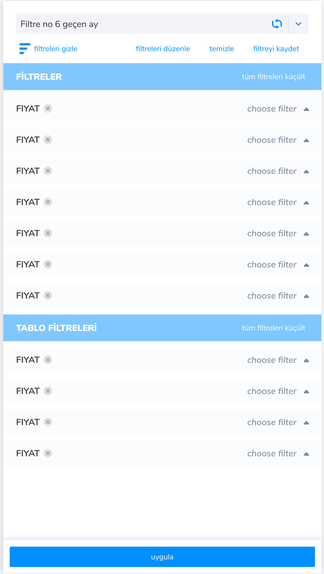
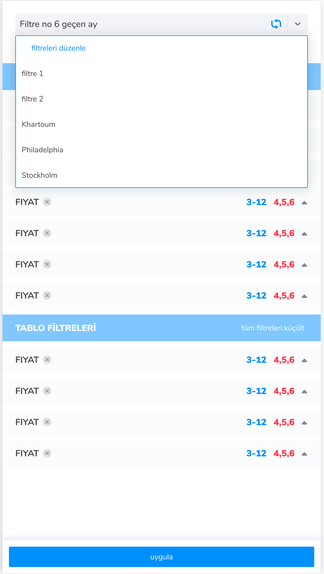
Filter Bar

Filter bar slides from the right side of the page when called. List component can be configured to include a filter component. This component work together with the filter bar.

Filter bar collapsed - empty



Filter bar collapsed - dropdown



Filters can be named and saved. The combobox on top serves to choose a predefined filter.

Filters can be grouped by titles as in the figure on the right: "Filtreler" and "Tablo Filtreleri"

Filters can be collapsed and expanded.

Collapsed View

The collapsed filters display "filtre seç" if no filtering is done with that specific filter. If filtering is done blue indicates additive filters and red indicates subtractive filters.

Expanded View

There are different filter components for different needs. A filter shows additive filters by default, subtractive filters can be opened via "Dahil olmayan değerleri ekle" button.

The filters will be applied when "filtreyi uygula" button is clicked.

A checkbox lets the user set a binary value (such as “true/false”). When the user clicks or taps the checkbox, it toggles between checked and unchecked. Checked means that the state described by the checkbox text applies, or that the item has been chosen.

The checkbox text describes the positive action (as in “true” or “yes”). The text can be either a label control to the left of the checkbox, or a checkbox text that appears to the right of the box.

If there is only one checkbox, you can use a label or text depending on the form format.
If there is more than one checkbox, the label describes the whole group of checkboxes. In this case, use the text property of the checkbox to describe the individual checkboxes.
Within a group of checkboxes, each checkbox can be checked or unchecked. The user can check multiple options.

A checkbox does not apply a setting right away; the changes take effect after user confirmation via a triggering action button (such as Save).

A text input field allows users to enter and edit text or numeric values in one line. To help users enter a valid value, you can enable the autocomplete suggestion feature and the value help option.

Usage

The user needs to enter a short, single-line text or number.
The user needs to enter a password, URL, phone number, or email address.
The user needs to select a single item from a large amount of data (for example, more than 200 items).
The user needs to find an object by searching for more than one attribute, such as an ID, city, and customer name. Use this control in combination with the autocomplete suggestion feature and value help option. For a small set of values (for example, fewer than 20 items), consider using the combo box.

Datepicker

Datepicker is used to select a date. A table pops up. The pop up may include time selection if wanted. (this pop up can be the framework default therefore a specific design is not forced, color scheme and styles must be overridden)

Text Input

A text input field allows users to enter and edit text or numeric values in one line. To help users enter a valid value, you can enable the autocomplete suggestion feature and the value help option.

If the entry doesn't exist, the autocomplete pop over may be configured to include an action to create the entry as new.

Popup bringer

Popup bringer can trigger an autocomplete but it can also trigger a more detailed custom popup for the specific entry which enables further detailed filtering when the 3 dot button is clicked.

Combo box

The combo box control allows users to select an item from a predefined list.

The control provides an editable input field for filtering the list, and a dropdown menu with a list of the available options.

If the entries are not validated by the application, users can also enter custom values.

If the entry doesn't exist, the autocomplete pop over may be configured to include an action "to create the entry as new" and add the entry to the predefined list.

Text input with icon

A preconfigured icon is appended on the right or left side of the input.

Lists

A table contains a set of line items and usually comprises rows (with each row showing one line item) and columns. Line items can contain data of any kind, but also interactive controls, for example, for editing the data, navigating, or triggering actions relating to the line item.

To display large amounts of data in tabular form, several table controls are provided. These are divided into two groups, each of which is defined by a consistent feature set:

Desktop-centric tables: Table Lists
Fully responsive tables: Card Lists

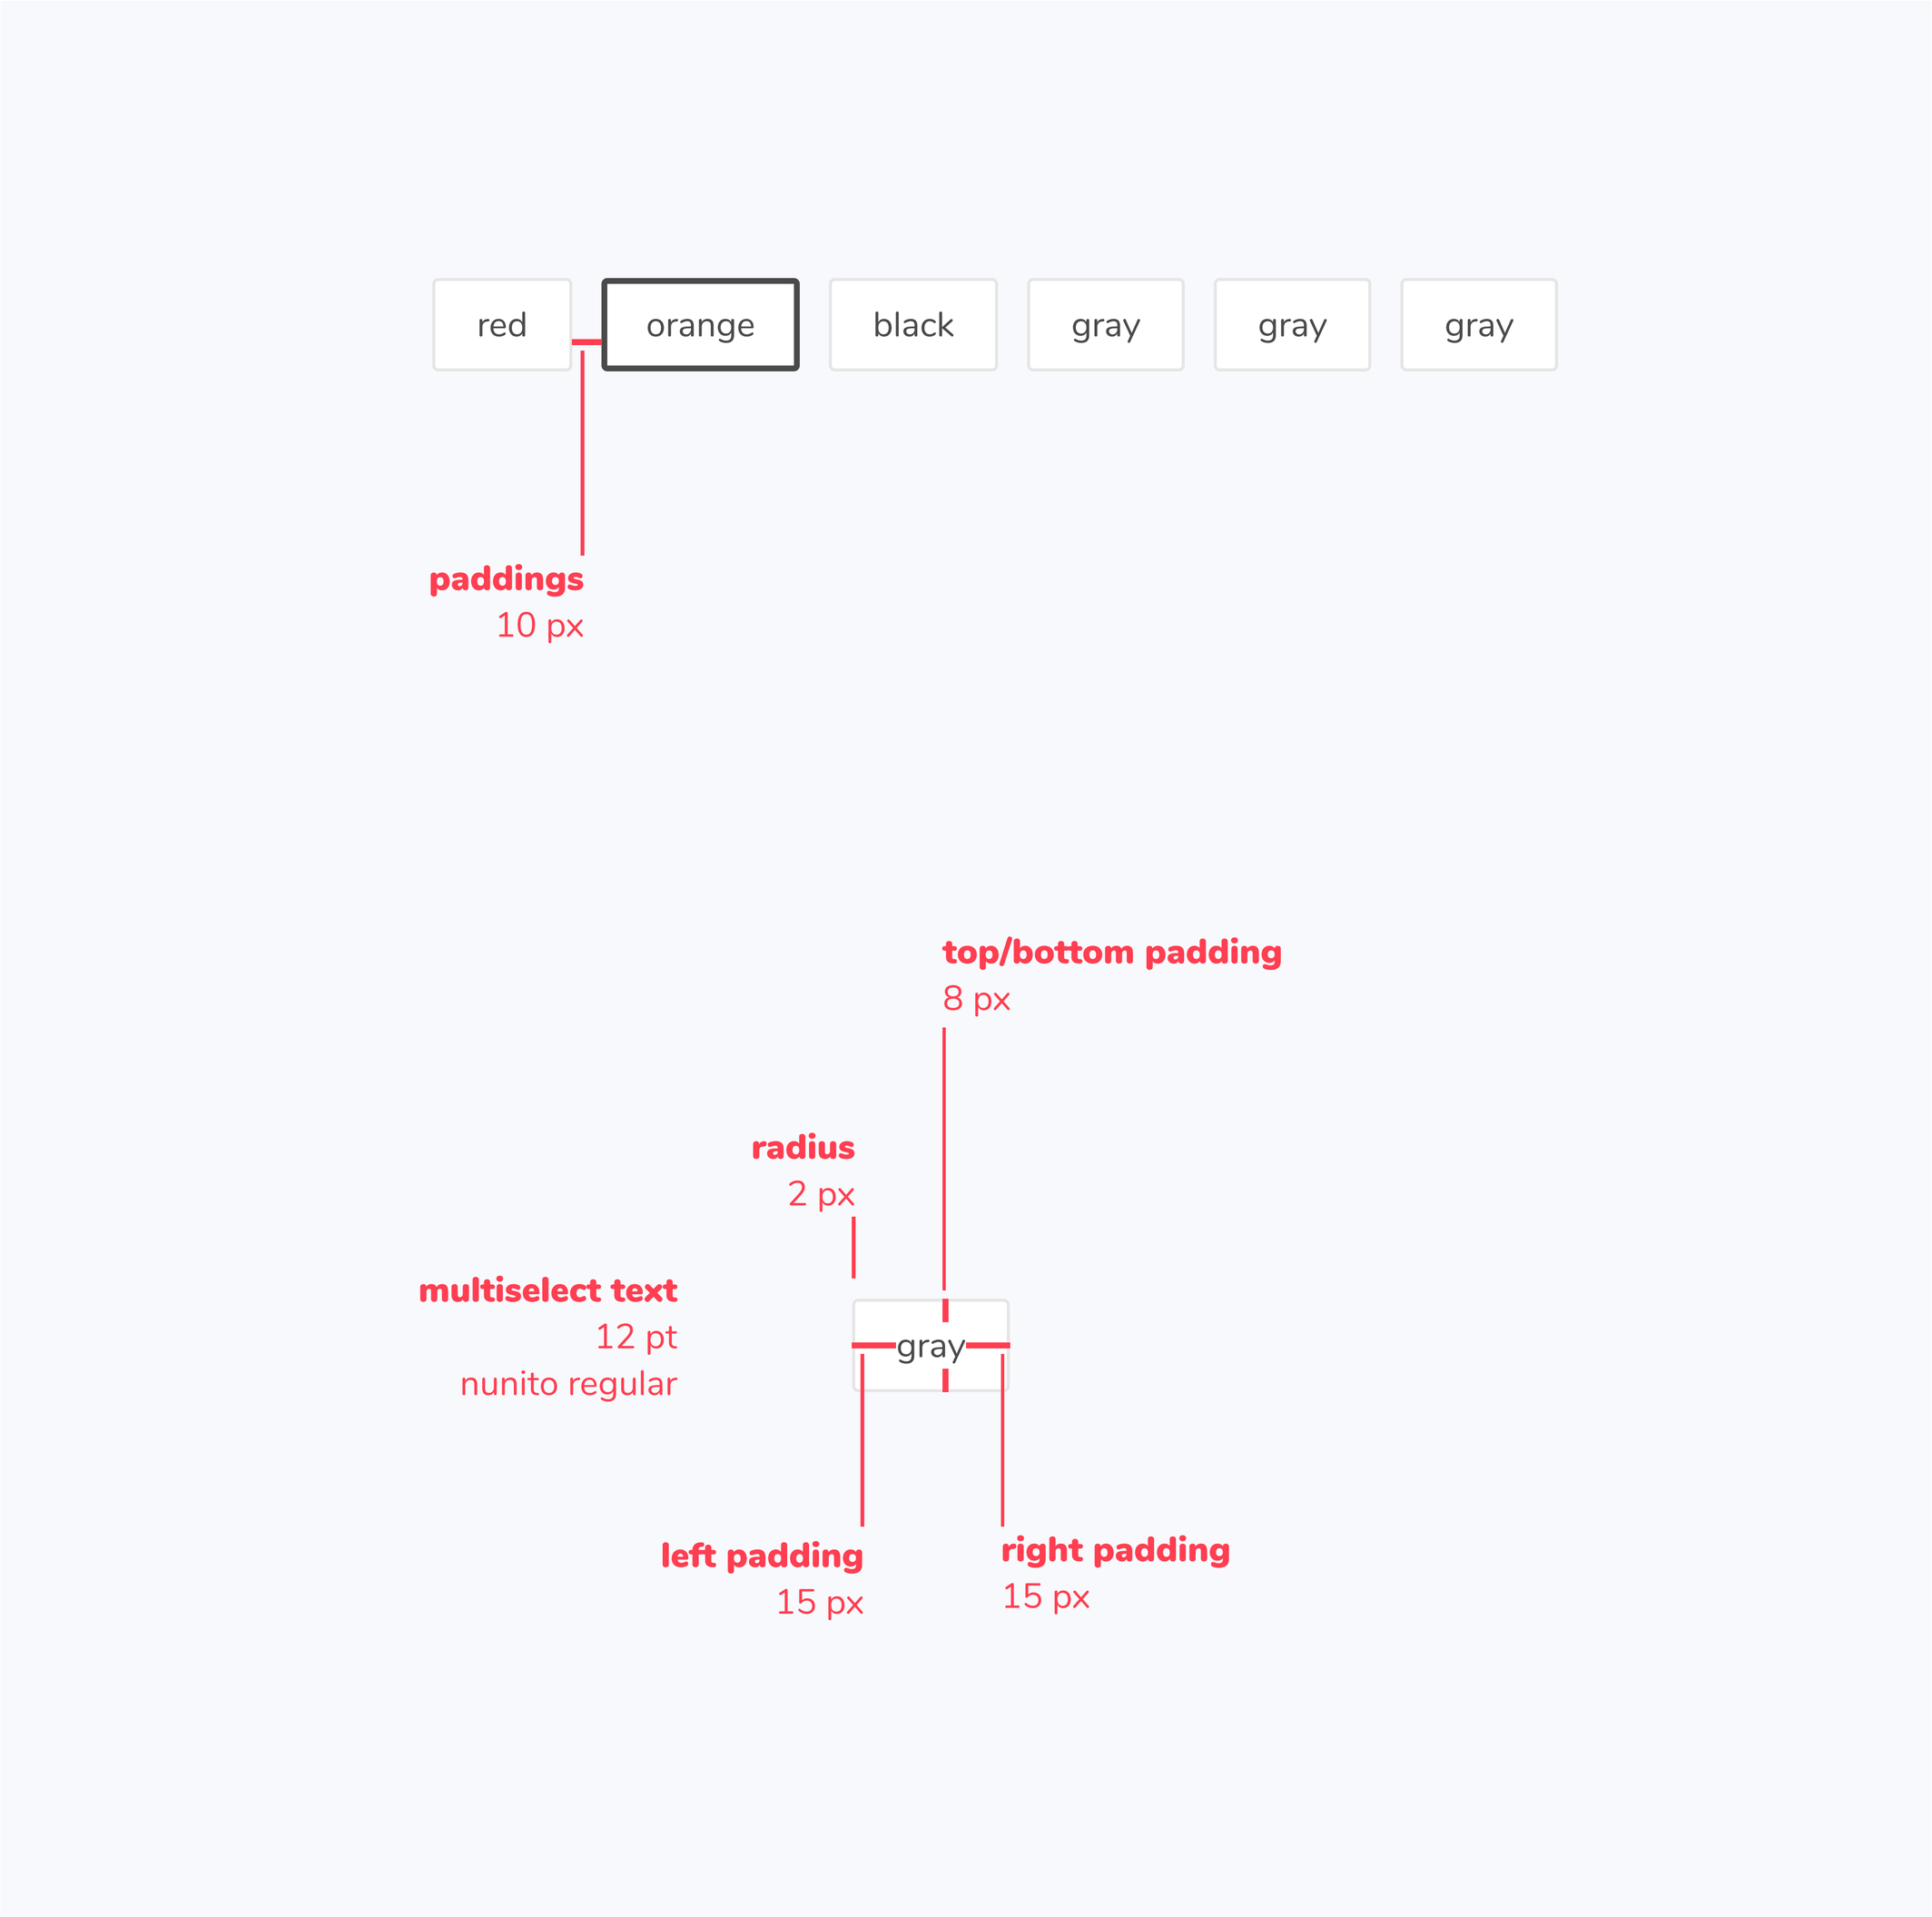
Multiselect

Multi select is used when the user is requested to choose a subset of things out of a set which does not exceed 8-10. If the set from which the user is selecting exceeds 10 things, then tags or a specific list view can be used.

Multiselect description



Quick Index

Quick Index is used to allow the user access a large number of things alphabetically.

Slider

A slider is a control that enables the user to adjust single values within a specified numerical range.

A range slider is a user interface control that enables the user to select a value range within a predefined numerical interval.

Toasts

The Toast Message is a special dialog that allows you to display messages to the user.

The message may be an on going asynchronous process, a warning, an error message or simply an information.

All toast types can include actions.

Usages

Blue toasts
Blue toasts are used when an asynchronous event occurs that transfers neutral info.

Orange toasts
Orange toasts are used to warn the user. This warning usually does not prevent the user from what he/she is doing but is important, and the user needs to be informed.

Red toasts
Red toasts are used when there is an event that interferes with the users current task. An error or a danger.

Green toasts
Green toasts are used when the users task ends with a success.
